

SOCIETY and CLUBS

By ALINE THOMPSON

THE words "Red Cross" are magical in their potency to beguile funds from society, and scarcely a day passes by that attractive functions are not being planned, or given for the good of this great humanitarian society.

And so it will be throughout the summer. There will be no diversions which are not flavored with the bitter-sweet tincture of war and the glorious self-effacements which follow in its wake.

Every dance, musicale and bridge will have its beneficiary and the teas will not be without their concomitant of war work for the guests will bring their knitting and other sewing for the soldiers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cross have issued the invitations for the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Veda Mae Cross, to Dr. Prince Wolverton Byrd, which will take place at the family residence on Wednesday afternoon, June the twenty-seventh.

The ceremony will be characterized by charming simplicity, and will be attended only by relatives and two of Miss Cross' girl chums.

Miss Cross is one of the most popular girls in Salem society, and her fiancé has always shared in the gayeties of the younger set.

They have been charmingly feted since the announcement of their engagement and will probably be honored with other pre-nuptial attentions.

Tonight at their residence, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer Putnam will entertain with one of the gayest and most novel affairs of the season. It is to be a "Sardough" dance, and the house will be converted into a typical Alaskan dance hall, the various rooms being arranged for dancing, cards, supper, etc.

The guests are all to be arrayed in fancy dress and will vie with one another in their efforts for original and grotesque costumes. There will be everything from the cow boy, sheriff, suitor, and the dance hall girl down to the Apache.

The festivity by the bye, is for the Red Cross, and the guests have all been asked to bring 25 pennies, with which to pay for their dances, drinks, and various other amusements which will keep up the gaiety until a late hour.

Only the men received invitations to participate in the festivities, but since they are mostly of the married set, and were asked to bring a partner, they in all probability will be accompanied by their wives, while the others will escort some of the girls.

The Putnams delight in entertaining their friends at original affairs, and tonight's is merely a repetition of the many good times had at their home.

Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. Harry E. Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Livesley, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. S. Guy Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. George William Gray, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Zadore J. Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Benard O. Schucking, Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hofer, Daniel J. Fry, Jr., Carl Gabrielson, Joseph McAllister, Albert Egan, Dr. W. B. Morse, Ralph Moores and others.

Salem friends are awaiting the contemplated visit during the summer, of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Albert, who for the past few years have been making their home in Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Albert plan to come west the latter part of June.

They will be here for about a month, and will of course, visit relatives.

To bid good bye to Lieutenant W. Carlton Smith, who has been called to the colors, and left Tuesday for Fort Riley, Kansas, a group of the married contingent gave an informal al fresco supper on Monday evening at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Harry H. Oling.

A long table was arranged under the trees for the supper which was followed later by dancing on the tennis court. About thirty merry makers participated in the gayeties, the guests being only members of the Thursday afternoon club and their husbands.

As a little gift of remembrance Dr. Smith's friends gave him a handsome radio light dial wrist watch.

Miss Winifred Byrd, the charming society girl who for the past few winters has been studying music in New York, writes friends that she will not come home this year, but will remain in the east, later going to Maine, where she will spend the summer.

As Miss Byrd usually comes home for her summers, this change in her plans is the source of much regret to her many friends who have been eagerly awaiting her return.

The Misses Gertrude and Margaret Gray left today for Chehalis, Washington, to meet their father, George B. Gray, who is motoring to Salem from Seattle. They will remain in Chehalis for the night, motoring to Salem Sunday.

One of the gayest and most delightful affairs of the week was the informal dancing party for which Mr. and Mrs. Grant R. Bonnell were hosts last night.

About 20 married folk enjoyed the festivity, and at a late hour the gayeties were rounded out with a delightful supper, small tables being arranged about the rooms.

Those asked to participate in the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Grier, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Chimcock, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Harding, Dr. and Mrs. Armin T. Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Geer, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Siocke, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burton and William Belcher of Portland.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. McCarthy of San Francisco will be glad to know that they will be in Salem for a visit this summer, arriving sometime this month.

They left San Francisco Thursday in their car, and will visit places of interest en route. They are accompanied by their daughter, Miss Ruth McCarthy and will be the guests of Mrs. McCarthy's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Smith, Jr.

Miss Mabel Withycombe left Thursday for Union, Oregon, where she will be the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Withycombe, for a few weeks.

Inasmuch as Miss Gertrude Taylor frequently visits in Salem as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, and has many friends among the younger contingent the following from the Oregonian will be interesting:

Miss Gertrude Taylor, a prominent Albany maid, will become the bride of Robert McMurray of this city, today at 4:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church. The bride-elect is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a popular Kappa Alpha Theta. Mr. McMurray is a son of William McMurray, general passenger agent of the O-W-R. & N., and Mrs. McMurray, a graduate of the University of Oregon. He is awaiting orders to join the ambulance corps in France this fall. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and also very popular with the younger folk.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Kay and their son, Erel Kay, motored to Eugene today for the week end and will be accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Marjorie Kay, who has been attending the University of Oregon.

Mrs. Oliver C. Locke had a group of matrons at her apartments in the Court on Thursday for an informal tea.

Her guests numbered sixteen and were for the most part members of the Nemo Card club, who gathered together to discuss plans for a jitty dance to be given by the club, for the Red Cross, on Tuesday night June the twelfth, at the armory.

A group of young folks who are members of two Latin classes of the Washington junior high school, motored out to the Senator McNary ranch on Tuesday night for a picnic supper.

The chaperones were Miss Irwine and Miss Schramm, teachers of the classes. Those making up the party were: Elizabeth Dyer, Marie Haberler, Ruth Darr, Margaret Griffith, Malcolm Smith, Earl Shafer, Elton Van Eichen, Isa Upson, Catherine Cozer, Harry Leery, Edwin Warren, Myrtle Preicer, Inez Russell, Wilmet Moll, Florence Jones, Marie Campbell and Arthur Rosenbraugh.

This next week again will not be without gayeties that are of themselves sufficient to arouse the excitement of society.

The fact that there is to be a bridge tea and dance at the Elks' hall on Wednesday, is something to make it noteworthy in the social calendar of the year.

The affair, which is of course for the benefit of the Red Cross, is being given by the Ilihee auxiliary, composed of a group of prominent society matrons who are among the most indefatigable of the scores of women working for the Red Cross.

The function just now is engrossing the entire thought and attention of those sponsoring it, as it is the expectation to make it one of the most delightful things yet given.

In addition to bridge, several delightful features have been arranged including music by Washington high Ukelele club, and solos by Miss Isabel Young, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Young of Albany.

The tickets for both the bridge and the dance are selling for a meager sum. In the afternoon the guests will pay 25 cents for the privilege of playing and in the evening the tickets will be 50 cents a couple.

There is so little doing now in a purely social way that these very attractive benefits have taken the fancy of society and each and everyone calls forth a huge gathering of prominent folk.

Miss Winifred Byrd, the charming society girl who for the past few winters has been studying music in New York, writes friends that she will not come home this year, but will remain in the east, later going to Maine, where she will spend the summer.

As Miss Byrd usually comes home for her summers, this change in her plans is the source of much regret to her many friends who have been eagerly awaiting her return.

The Bird of the Wilderness.....Horan
The Bitterness of Love.....Dunn
Alone Upon the Housetop.....Galloway
Cradle Song.....Mac Fadyen
Allah.....Chadwick
The Winds of the South.....Scott

Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Moore who have been the guests of Mrs. Moore's parents, Judge and Mrs. J. C. Moreland, for the past week, returned to their home in Portland Wednesday.

Miss Catharine Carson and Miss Florence Hofer have gone to Eugene to attend the annual spring banquet to be given by the Gamma Phi Beta sorority of which the girls are members.

They will pass the week end in Eugene and will be guests at the sorority house.

Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush who have been spending a few days at Newport and Agate Beach, where they are building an attractive new summer home, returned on Wednesday.

Mrs. Arthur H. Moore entertained informally on Monday afternoon with a few tables of bridge, her guests being the members of a small club.

Five tables were arranged for the games, in rooms attractively decked with the assistance of yellow genista.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Charles F. Elgin and Miss Calista Moore.

Mrs. E. Jorgenson and small daughter, Grace, and Mrs. S. M. Dalrymple, who have been visiting their relatives, the Joseph H. Alberts will return to their home in Portland today.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Neill have had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Charles of Portland.

Inasmuch as Miss Gertrude Taylor frequently visits in Salem as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, and has many friends among the younger contingent the following from the Oregonian will be interesting:

Salem music lovers flocked to the Grand theatre last night to hear Miss Ada Miller who was presented in concert by Miss Minnetta Magers.

Last night gave Salem folk their first opportunity of hearing this talented young singer, who has been studying and singing in Chicago for the past three years, and winning the commendation of critics of the East.

Miss Miller possesses a wonderful soprano voice, of rare quality, with a remarkable range which never loses its sweetness and clearness of tone, even in compositions ranging from the highest to the lowest notes.

She evinced a deep appreciation of the artistic significance of the songs in a programme arranged to show the qualities of her voice. "A Burst of Melody" (Selle) which was in the first group of songs on the programme, was beautifully sung; "Inter Nos" (Mac Fadyen) is a gem of the first water, and in this too, the singer was heard to great advantage, it being delightfully dramatic.

Among the others of her repertoire which were favorites were "The Bitterness of Love" (Dunn), and "The Wind in the South" (Scott) which was perhaps the most brilliant number of the evening.

Miss Miller responded to several encores, giving "Shadow March" (De Riego), "Mushrooms" and one or two others.

She was showered with lovely flowers and wore a becoming and charming gown of bright green tulle over cloth of gold, with a bodice of green paillettes.

Mrs. Alfred Schramm accompanied Miss Miller at the piano.

Her program was as follows:

Care Selve.....Handel
Zweignung.....Sindling
Sylvia.....Sindling
A Burst of Melody.....Selle
Bird Song, from Paganini.....Leoncavallo
Inter Nos.....Mac Fadyen
La Colomba, Tuscan folk song.....Schindler
Deep River, American Negro melody.....Lambert

Salem friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Matthews (Blanche Brown) who for several years have been making their home in California, will be interested to know that they recently have moved to Cushing, Okla., where Mr. Matthews has been appointed chief chemist of the Rozanna Petroleum company.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews formerly lived in Salem, and both are well known here. Mrs. Matthews being the son of Mrs. D. W. Matthews and Mrs. Matthews the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brown.

Mrs. Roy T. Bishop of Pendleton is visiting the Bishop family for a few days. Mrs. Bishop will be in the city on Friday night and will be the guest of Mrs. C. P. Bishop, who passed the day in Portland where the former has been confined to the hospital for several weeks.

Friends of Mrs. Bishop will be glad to know that she is rapidly recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCorkle are leaving tomorrow for a sojourn at their summer cottage in Neskevin.

They will make the trip to the beach in their car and will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Galloway and Mrs. George Riches who will be their guests for a few days.

The Junior Guild of the St. Paul's Episcopal church will meet on Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. U. G. Shipley.

Mrs. William S. Walton has as her guest for the week end Miss Sue Rigley of Corvallis, who is en route to Los Angeles, California, for the summer.

Friends of Miss Georgiabell Booth, who for several months has been appearing on the vaudeville circuit in a musical act, will be interested to know that she and her company are now back in Spokane, Washington. They will play there the remainder of the week, closing their engagement next week in Seattle from where they were first booked.

Miss Booth and the other members of the act already have their new booking which will take them south.

The following notice of their act in a Spokane paper will be interesting:

Another musical act is that of the symphony maids. There are two violinists and one pianist in this act, and one of the three sings as well. They are different from the usual vaudeville musical act. The accustomed mannerisms of the vaudevillian are lacking; and the quality of their musicianship is distinctly higher than the vaudeville average. One might class them as three ladies who know a good deal about music, and not very much about the stage; maybe that is one of the reasons why their act is so enjoyable.

The new residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Stecke on the Portland highway

Honoring Miss Anna Paul of Buffalo, New York, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry K. Merwin, Mrs. A. L. Johnson and Mrs. W. V. Johnson were hostesses Tuesday afternoon for a delightful Kensington at the home of the former on North Summer street.

A color scheme of lavender and white prevailed in the refreshments and decorations, the rooms being adorned with clusters of lilacs and narcissus.

During the afternoon the guests were favored with several solos by Miss Maceyle Hunter, who was accompanied at the piano by Miss DeWitte.

Those asked to meet the visitor were Mrs. W. M. Smith, Mrs. Frank E. Shaffer, Mrs. Paul V. Johnson, Mrs. Miller Bevier, Mrs. L. E. Page, Mrs. W. P. Powle, Mrs. Lorena Wise, Mrs. Herbert Stiff, Mrs. Robert Simpson, Mrs. G. W. Coollidge, Mrs. E. M. Hoffnail, Mrs. Roma C. Hunter, Mrs. W. W. Moore, Miss Jennie Booth and Miss Thekla Goehring of Grand Isle, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Smyth who have been making their home in Salem for the past few years have returned to their old home in Portland, where Mr. Smyth will be associated with a local cement company.

They left Salem early in the week, and for the present are with Mrs. Smyth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Clerin.

During their stay in Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Smyth made many friends, all of whom regret their departure.

Mrs. Carrie Rineman who, with her small son, Carl Rineman, has been visiting in Salem for a few days as the guest of Mrs. F. P. Talkington, returned Friday to her home in Portland.

Decoration day, the lure of the great out of doors was too vivid not to have an eager and ready response from motorists, and scores of folk took advantage of the wonderful sunshine, and made up parties, motoring to some picturesque spot for picnics.

The golf links, too, were the mecca for society folk and devotees, and all day long the greens were dotted with players. Some motored out early in the morning while others went later in the day for a few games and supper.

A group of the married set including Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Livesley made up a party and motored out late in the afternoon for supper.

Another party also going out later for a picnic and a game or two included Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Harry E. Clay, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer Putnam and Joseph McAllister.

Salem friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Matthews (Blanche Brown) who for several years have been making their home in California, will be interested to know that they recently have moved to Cushing, Okla., where Mr. Matthews has been appointed chief chemist of the Rozanna Petroleum company.
